

Homework Helper

If a student needs assistance with their homework or their school work in general, there are resources available for them. The best advice we can give a student or parent is to discuss any school or homework issue with the student's teacher for that subject. They know the appropriate resources available to students. After-school hours and/or tutoring are available options.

The following web site by Discovery School provides students with homework help.

Discovery School Homework Help

Family Education Network by Pearson Education, Inc. is another great resource for homework help.

Family Education Network